HONOLULU, NOV. 6, 1888. Arrivals of shipping from foreign ports since last report have been: Bark Alden Bessie, at Kabului, Oct. 29, from Departure Bay, B. C., with coal. Nov. 2, at this port, ship J. C. Pfluger, 134 days from Premen; bark John Nicholson, 52 days from Honkong, and barkentine S. G. Wilder, 11% days from San Francisco, The four-masted schooner Addie C. Haseltine, from San Francisco for Gilbert Islands, passed this port the evening of Nov. 1st.

Departures have been: Oct. 30, bark C.

D. Bryant for San Francisco; 31, barkentine Mary Winkelman, Puget Sound; Nov. 2, barkentine W. H. Dimond, San Francisco. Receipts of sugar at this port from plantations for the week have been 11,467 bags, and of rice 3,047 bags.

As presun.ed would be done, the Planters' Labor and Supply Company, at its meeting last week, resolved upon a radical change. Hereafter anyone having or taking an interest in any branch of legitimate domestic industry will be admitted to membership on payment of an annual fee of $5. Plantstion concerns will pay $25 a year all round, instead of assessments on stock as hereto-Under its new lease of life much is hoped from the organization in the promotion of Hawaiian industry and commerce.

A table of exports from San Francisco, by sea, gives the value of those for the Hawaitan Islands as $251,500 in September, and $2,124,000 during the first pine months of 1888. Only three other markets are ahead of Hawaii, viz., New York, Great Britain and France. Australia is the fourth with $221,900 for September, and $1,231,000 for nine months. Even if New Zealand's imports from San Francisco were added to Australia's, they would not come up to this country's, Moreover, an increase of $400,000 in shipments from San Francisco to New York is mainly the result of augmented exports of raw Hawaiian sugars. In connection with the above, it may be stated that the value of exports to Australia has just doubled over that of last year, which she be an irresistible argument for the United States Government leaving nothing undone to maintain the steamship service with the Fatal Accident on Hawaii.

Mr. Sam. Macy gives us the account of a fatal accident at Waimea, Hawaii. On Wednesday last a half-white boy named Thomas Lindsay was chasing cattle, when his horse fell with him. He was thrown head foremost to the earth, so badly fracturing his skull that the brains oozed out. Dr. Greenfield, who was called, did not believe the lad would live till next morning. Nevertheless he lingered until noon of Saturday, when he died. Lindsay was twenty years old, and is described as having been the smartest wild bullock catcher on the

The Presidential Election. Election day-this Tuesday-promises to be lively in Honolulu. Captain E. B. Cousins of the American bark Alden Besse, which arrived at Kahului, Maui, the 29th ult. from Nanaimo, British Columbia, with a cargo of coal, reported a stormy experience during his last trip. A heavy gale from the southwest began on Thursday, October 11th, and lasted for twenty-two hours, the ves-sel shipping heavy seas constantly. The men on duty were kept in the after-house. On Friday morning at 5 o'clock, a sea-man named J. A. Lockwood, a native of New York, who was in the after honse, was washed overboard by a high sea, together with a small boat, davits, and bulwarks, in latitude 44 deg. north and longitude 128 deg. west. The captain was scarcely able even to attempt rendering assistance to the unfortunate man

HILO NOTES.

Plantation Consolidation-English Investigators.

It is learned that Messrs, Castle & Cooke's plantation at Papaikou and that of Messrs. C. Brewer & Co. at Onomea have been consolidated. The combined estate will be under the management of Mr. Wm. W. Goodale, hitherto manager of Onomea plantation, Mr. Coville retiring from the management of Papaikou. The combined acreage is about 4,000 acres, from which a yield of 4,000 tons of sugar per annum is calculated to be possible. Terms of the combination have not transpired. As the plantations joined lie contiguous to each other, considerable saving will be effected in their united management.

Mr. F. H. Austin has finished piloting the two London experts over the plantation properties sought to be amalgamated for English purchasers. Th party has returned to Honolulu, and it is reported that Mr. Austin will accompany the English gentlemen to London So far as known their report will be favorable to the purchase of the interests by a London syndicate.

Very rough weather has prevailed during the week on the Hamakua coast.
